About this week's program

The Rotary Club will be awarding four $1,000 scholarships this year to MCPS seniors who excel in a Fine Arts field will attend college in the fall with studies in their chosen field. Students must receive high recommendations from a high school teacher or director and have superior leadership skills in the chosen field. They are chosen for dependability, maturity, and talent in the chosen vocal, musical or fine arts genre. Students also show moral character, leadership in fine arts school organizations and service to others in a volunteerism capacity.

Local News

About this year's Fine Arts Scholarship Recipients:

Norin Bortz is a senior at Blacksburg High School graduating as an AP Scholar with Distinction. Her excellence in visual art and graphic design won third place in Advertising design for District Skills USA Competition. Norin was the National Art Honor Society Historian, VP of the National Thespian Honor Society and JV soccer captain. She volunteers at the local humane society, offers face painting skills at elementary school fairs, and tutors middle school students. Norin plans to attend the University of Georgia in pursuit of a BFA in Graphic Design.

Evie Cameron is a BHS senior graduating with an advanced diploma and gold honor roll status. She is receiving this scholarship for excellence in her vocal music and theatre arts; and a resume boasting over 20 high school theatrical roles and summer studies at Northwestern Theatre Arts program, and Artsbridge Dramatic Academy. Evie also has film experience in "Teal" with UNC School of Arts and seven other film roles. She volunteers with Summer Musical Enterprise and the Montgomery-Floyd County Public library. Evie plans to attend University for Theater and pursue acting.

Cara Couch is receiving her scholarship for excellence in the Christiansburg High School for instrumental music and Choir program. Her choral achievements have included participation in the All District choir for four years, Honors choir for one year, and All State Choir one year. She is a member of the Chamber Ensemble and active in musical theater productions. She is actively involved with her church in community outreach programs at womens' resource centers, homeless shelters, and low-income apartments. Cara plans to attend Radford University in the fall and hopefully study clinical mental health and music theory in piano and vocal performance.

Karen Villanueva is a senior at Blacksburg High School graduating AP scholar with distinction with an impressive GPA of 4.34/4.0. She is a student interested in the intersection of visual arts and technology. She is the Student Body president, and the National Art Honors Society President. Karen is founder and editor of NAHS Newsletter to share useful art resources and student art with the school. Karen is a second degree Senior black belt in Taekwondo and volunteered to teach children English in Taiwan summer camps. Karen has been accepted at Princeton University and University of Pennsylvania and plans to explore fields of art and computer science.
